Space and Naval Warfare Systems Center Charleston Awards Contract

CHARLESTON, S.C. — Scientific Research Corporation, of Atlanta, Ga., is being awarded a $11,861,473 Indefinite Delivery, Indefinite Quantity, Cost-Plus-Fixed Fee type contract to provide engineering, technical and programmatic support services related to the Command, Control, Communications, Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance (C4ISR) program. These activities support a variety of customers, including Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command, U.S. Special Operations Command, the United States Marine Corp, the United States Air Force, Naval Security Group, and other end-users and customers. This contract includes options which, if exercised, would bring the cumulative value of the contract to $49,992,427. The work will be performed in Charleston, S.C. (95%) and Atlanta, Ga. (5%), and is expected to be completed by October 2006. Contract funds in the amount of $100,000 will not expire at the end of the fiscal year. This contract was competitively procured under full and open competition. The Request for Proposal was posted on the SPAWAR Systems Center E-Commerce website and two offers were received. The Space and Naval Warfare Systems Center, Charleston is the contracting activity (N65236-03-D-5853).
